

Archive for June, 2009

June 5th, 2009

Training Program going online

Next month the Christian Montessori training program will go online. We will start with the first section of the Christian Montessori philosophy. This phase of the program will combine lectures with scheduled interactive question and answer sessions. The materials training portion of the course will be available on DVD's.

The first ten hour section of philosophy will be available for $200. Sections B and C will be available at the same cost.

The material training modules will be available on DVD's.

Full details are available on "Christian Montessori Training" page.